A Personal Message from the Premier

July 20 – 24, 2016

On behalf of the Government of Ontario, I am delighted to welcome the delegates of the 2016 Biennial Conference of the International Association for Relationship Research (IARR).

Ontario has always been a place where people and ideas come together. I am pleased to see thinkers from all disciplines gathering to share their the latest research on this important subject.

Meaningful personal and social relationships are the foundation of healthy communities — and strong societies. Strong communities support our well-being, enable us to build good lives and allow us to work together to make a positive difference. Gatherings such as this set the stage for meaningful conversations and help us build on our body of knowledge on this most fundamental element of human society.

I thank the IARR and Tourism Toronto for hosting this gathering of minds.

To all visitors: welcome to Toronto — one of the world's most diverse cities, with world class entertainment, culture and cuisine. I wish you a pleasant stay.

Best wishes for an informative and inspiring conference!

Kathleen Wynne
Premier

Premier of Ontario - Première ministre de l'Ontario

Welcome Message

Dear IARR Delegates,

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to Toronto for IARR 2016! IARR has a tradition of hosting warm, welcoming, and engaging conferences that invite the exchange of important ideas in an atmosphere of openness and supportiveness. We hope that this year's meeting will continue that tradition.

Toronto is a wonderful backdrop for an IARR conference boasting attendees from 40 different countries. Our city has been named both the most diverse and most liveable city in the world, and it especially comes alive during the summer when its abundant green space thrives and its citizens spill into open-air festivals, rooftop patios, and outdoor markets. Make sure you leave plenty of time for the world-class choice of restaurants, theatres, music, and dance venues within walking distance of the conference hotel. Shop along Queen Street West, wander to the Rogers Centre to watch the Blue Jays pummel the Mariners, or catch a ferry to the Toronto Islands to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city centre. You simply can't run out of things to do here!

Of course, organizing a conference like this is a huge undertaking that requires the support and commitment of a big and dedicated team. We would like to take this opportunity to thank some of the people who have made this conference possible. First, the executive committee of IARR has been incredibly supportive, encouraging, and helpful throughout the conference planning and preparation process. We are particularly grateful to Sue Sprecher, Leah Bryant, and Dan Perlman for their support and advice. Second, we would like to thank Leanne Knobloch, Timothy Loving, and SiSi Tran of the Program Committee, as well as the numerous IARR members who volunteered their time to serve as referees for conference submissions. You will see the payoff for their work in the quality of presentations at the conference. Third, we want to thank a number of local individuals without whose invaluable contributions the conference would simply not have been possible. These include Kristina Tchalova (who provided enormous support in the proposal process), Emily Impett and SiSi Tran (Local Organizing Committee), James Marchement (logo and website design), Gabe McMullen (website design and maintenance), Laurice Karkaby and Megan Rossi (MacDonald Lab managers), Sabrina Thai (room sharing coordinator), Stephen James (photography for the website), and Steven Hermans (assistance with grant funding). Finally, we are grateful for the efforts provided by Richard Carlisle, Sharon DiLeo, Grit Schoenherr, and Thespena Kanakos of International Conference Services.

We hope the conference will provide you with both professional growth and lasting personal memories. Thank you for visiting Toronto and please enjoy your stay!

About IARR & Awards

About IARR

www.iarr.org

The International Association for Relationship Research (IARR) is an interdisciplinary organization that strives to (a) promote advances in the scientific study of personal and social relationships, and (b) encourage collaboration among students, new scholars and experienced scholars. IARR resulted from the integration of two prior organizations (the International Society for the Study of Personal Relationships, the International Network on Personal Relationships) and has worked to maintain the high standards set by each organization.

IARR members represent a broad range of disciplines, such as family studies, psychology, communication, sociology, child/lifespan development, gerontology, education, clinical work (e.g., counseling, therapy), philosophy, and anthropology. As a non-profit organization, IARR encourages cooperation among social scientists worldwide and supports the application of research findings in bettering individuals' relationships.

The organization has members from six of the seven continents, and sponsors two journals:

Toronto Information

TORONTO - One of Canada's best kept secrets, Toronto is on par with New York City, San Francisco and Chicago when it comes to cultural attractions and urban sophistication.

The landmark CN Tower is the tallest freestanding structure in the world. The elevator to the top for a breathtaking view of the city, Lake Ontario and more. Stroll next door and experience Ripley's Aquarium as you explore the wonders of the sea or a catch a Blue Jays Baseball game at Rogers Centre or just walk around the massive engineering marvel. Check out the Royal Ontario Museum, the largest in Canada with its fascinating archaeology and natural history exhibits, and the Art Gallery of Ontario, with a fine collection of European and Canadian works. You won't want to miss the electric shops and restaurants on Queen Street West or the elegant boutiques and fine restaurants in Yorkville.

And there's more: harbourfront is a complex of unique shops and restaurants right on beautiful Lake Ontario. From harbour front you can hop on a ferry to the Toronto Islands for a picnic and outdoor recreation such as beach volleyball.

2017 IARR MINI-CONFERENCE

INTERDEPENDENCE, INTERACTION, & RELATIONSHIPS

The International Association for Relationship Research (IARR) is excited to announce a Mini-Conference and a New Scholar Workshop to be held at Syracuse University in 2017

This mini-conference will cover an umbrella of topics related to dyadic- and group-level perspectives on relationship phenomena. This theme highlights one of the strengths of relationship science: its ability to speak to the complex interplay of individuals with their close others. Work relevant to this theme will speak to how basic processes are affected by the dyadic context in which they are embedded, how relationship partners influence each other, how relationship partners combine efforts to obtain dyadic- or group-level outcomes, and statistical and methodological advances appropriate for dyad and contextual effects, to name but a few examples.

However, as we are committed to a broad representation of scholars at the conference, we encourage work on all topics, even if it is only tangentially related to this theme. We hope to see everyone in Central New York in 2017!
